History & Origins (Basenji): The Basenji is the 'barkless dog,' known for its quiet nature, curly tail, and cat-like behavior. Historically, Basenji developed traits suited to its original role—whether hunting, guarding, herding, or companionship.

Appearance (Basenji): Basenjis are small, fine-boned dogs with a curled tail and short, sleek coat. Their wrinkled forehead and upright ears contribute to their unique, fox-like appearance.

Temperament & Behavior (Basenji): Independent, quiet, intelligent, and cat-like in behavior. Basenji often displays behaviors shaped by its historical purpose, including trainability, social tendencies, and energy levels.

Care & Needs (Basenji): Active indoors and outdoors; needs mental stimulation, occasional brushing, and minimal shedding maintenance.

Quick Tips for Basenji Owners: Exercise daily with off-leash opportunities in safe areas. Intelligent, may get bored—enrichment is critical. Minimal grooming required, but check nails and teeth. Socialization with humans and other dogs is important.
